

Tanzania really is a safari heaven and the last place in Africa where you can truly feel remote, and as if you are the last person on earth. There are still vast tracts of unexplored bush here, which is full to the brim with wildlife. Your Tarangire, Manyara, Ngorongoro and Serengeti migration safari will be packed full of fantastic game viewing and meeting the famous Masai tribe. If you're after a real adventure in Africa's last great wildernesses then a tour of Southern Tanzania (the Selous and Ruaha) or Western Tanzania (Katavi and Mahale) will blow your mind - these areas are pristine, untouched and full of game to be explored. See Tony Fitzjohn's famous Mkomazi Reserve, add to this the exotic Zanzibar archipelago, with its outstanding snorkelling, diving and deep-sea fishing, as well as a rich history shaped by the spice trade, and it's no wonder Tanzania safari and Zanzibar holidays are becoming the choice of discerning travelers.
